From Mansle: (Town on the RN10 between Poitiers and Angouleme) follow the signs right into the centre of Mansle (Centre Ville). At the main crossroad in the centre, you will see a signpost for Aigre; follow the signs until you come to the centre of Aigre. Take the D739 signposted Matha out of Aigre. You will pass a small petrol station, which no longer sells petrol, on the right and shortly after this, you will see a right hand turning with a sign for Chillé, the village is well signposted after this. As you enter Chillé, follow the road through the village until you come to a small square with trees and benches on your left. There is a larger square of land opposite on the right. Take the small road to the right (Impasse du Haut) which runs behind this square. La Grange is the first set of iron gates. Le Bourg, where Chris and Sarah live, is the second set of white iron gates. (See picture below)

Keys for La Grange

On the rare occasion when one of us is not present at the house to welcome you, you will find the keys to the house in a small combination lock safe which is anchored to the wall on the corner of the house. Just stand in front of the white gates and look to your right at approximately eye height.

Use the combination number which we will have provided to you in a separate letter or email to open the lock and find the keys to the house.

Pictures of the lock both closed and open are below.

You can also use this key safe for the house keys if you have friends arriving on a different day to yourselves yet need to be out for any reason. Just make sure that they have the combination which we will have provided to you.
